Council seeks pension solution

By JEFF BROWN

PAHOKEE - Members of the Pahokee City Council would like to buy back from the state 13 years that Mayor Duncan Padgett had worked for the city before it entered the state retirement plan, but several obstacles may stand in their way.

According to Councilman Ronnie Graydon, Padgett, who retired in May 1980 after 20 years as mayor and 12 years with the water department, receives a pension from the state and a pension from the city.

Graydon told the council Tuesday, October 5, that the city could buy the time he worked before the city entered the state plan for $5,000, and eliminate the need for the city to pay its portion of the mayor's retirement.

He said Padgett's "take home pay" would remain about the same.

There are several factors which must be resolved before the council can buy back the time, including possible legal implications and objections from Padgett.

Attorney Michael Stauder said the city may have to buy back the time two other elected officials served prior to adoption of the state plan. City Clerk Betty McCoy and Police Chief Carmen "Skeets" Salvatore III had both served in their positions before the city entered the plan. Salvatore was first elected to the position in 1969 and McCoy was elected in 1972. The plan was adopted in 1973.

Graydon wanted to know if the city could place the mayor into a separate class because of the difference in his duties.

"Yes and no," said Stauder. "Yes, you can do it until somebody files suit. What constitutes a class? Is the mayor in a class by himself? You might want to limit it to just elected officials. I think you'd be safe if you limit it to elected officials."

Stauder also said the ordinance the city adopted in 1979 to give Padgett a pension may not be legal. The city adopted the ordinance because the seven years Padgett had served under the state retirement plan wasn't long enough to give him a pension.

"Well, I'm all for paying it whether its legal or not, till we find out what we're gonna do," said Councilman William E. McKinstry.

Padgett asked Graydon how much he was going to lose from his pension if the city bought his back time from the state.

Graydon said he didn't know, but would try to find out before any action was taken on buying back the time.

"Duncan, I'm not trying to take anything away from you," said Graydon. "I'm just trying to avoid a potential liability for the city down the road."

"I understand that," said Padgett. "But there wasn't any problem till you got up here."

Padgett said that he understood the city's concern about the possibility of an added expense 20 years from now if another employee retires and the ordinance giving him a pension is still on the books, but added he didn't think he should sue because of it.

"I'm 78," he said. "I'm on borrowed time." Padgett also said that it may not be legal buy his time back because he has already drawn it.

"I also got a letter from them (the state) sayi after you draw your first check, you can't buy a time back," said Padgett.

"Well, we've better check into that, too," said Graydon.

Graydon said he had no reservations about buying the back time for Padgett, but was concerned about the cost of purchasing the back time for Salvatore, McCoy and any employees who have been with the city for very long.

"Duncan, I'd love to buy his back time," said Graydon. "He's been an asset to the community for a number of years."

In other business, the council held the first hearings on several budget related items, ga final approval to them.

City revises housing laws

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - Enforcement was the keyword Monday night when the city commissioners sat down in a four and a half hour workshop session dedicated almost entirely to revising the city's housing code.

The commissioners reviewed the southern standard housing code, brought to the commission Planning and Community Development Director Remar M. Harvin as a proposed revision to the current code.

The commissioners revised the document several places to make it more applicable to the local situation.

"I don't have any real problem with enforcement under the standard housing code," said Harvin, adding that there was nothing overly stringent in it and that it addresses roominghouse Commissioner Charles Goodlett said he saw several problems with the standard code as stood without revisions. The code was drawn and printed in Birmingham, one of the problems Goodlett saw with it.

"I betcha there wasn't a man present who knew about Belle Glade and Pahokee and the agricultural areas," said Goodlett. "If we add that and try to enforce it, we'll have to clean everything we got."

Among the sections which drew the commission's attention were those concerning square feet per occupants of rooming houses, electrical outlets and ventilation windows and doors.

Many clauses were felt to be unenforceable as City Attorney John E. Baker urged they be deleted.

Altman retains mayor's seat

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - Thomas L. Altman was returned to his fifth term as mayor of the city of Belle Glade Friday morning, October 1, in a special organization meeting of the city commission.

The commission also unanimously appointed Claude A. Tindall vice mayor and Charles Goodlett treasurer.

Tindall had served as vice mayor in 1979 and 1981. Goodlett replaces William A. Grear as treasurer.

Altman, who was returned to his third consecutive term as mayor, has served in that position since 1980. He also served as mayor in 1977 and 1978.

"I think you've made an outstanding mayor," Goodlett said.

"We're doing this cause we think you deserve it," said Tindall.

John E. Baker was retained as the city attorney.

The terms will run through September 1983. Altman and Goodlett were recently re-elected to two-year terms on the city commission in an uncontested election.

Next year, the seats currently held by Tindall, Grear and George Goforth, Jr., will be up for election.

City to examine fees

BELLE GLADE - When the Belle Glade City Commission meets Tuesday, October 12, it will probably take action on revising the charges and deposits levied for water service.

According to Assistant Finance Director Frank Anderson said it takes two billings, a ty currently charges $30 per deposit, but that may be increased to $70 to cover the costs of services over a 55 day period between the time a bill goes unpaid and the water service can be cut.

Finance Director Anderson said it takes two billings, a linal notice and a cut-off notice over a 50 day period before the city can cut-off the water to a delinquent customer.

Other charges to be examined may be the cost of cutting the water off and towing charges. Anderson and Police Chief D. Bill Mathis said those charges should be increased to cover the cost of the services.

Commissioner Charles D. Goodlett said that $5 is levied to cut-off water service to a customer, but that it costs closer to $12 for the city to cut it.

Mathis said the city is still charging $25 for towing.

Interim agreement drafted by city

By JEFF BROWN
BELLE GLADE—An interim agreement between the Palm Beach County Community Development Department and the Belle Glade office of the department should keep the local office operating until an extended agreement is reached and goes into effect.

Belle Glade Community Development Director Remar Harvin told the City Commission Friday that, under the terms of the interim agreement, the city will be reimbursed by the county for normal administrative expenses incurred by the local department in the one month period prior to the time the extended agreement becomes effective.

The Belle Glade department currently employs four staff members, but Harvin said he will be trying to expand that to five in the extended agreement.

The Community Development program is funded by the federal government. Belle Glade was funded under the program since 1975 when the federal government determined the city was eligible for $471,000 annually for five years, Harvin said.

That amount has increased and the time limit extended.

Since the program started, the city has used the funds for several projects, including Lake Shore Park, paving streets and improved housing for 69 citizens. The improved housing includes 20 new units, Harvin said at the meeting.

He said one project involved moving a house from property a local resident wanted cleared, and placing it on another plot where another resident moved into it. According to Harvin, the recipient moved into a house valued at about $35,000 and it cost only $4,000 to move it.

Remar, I don't believe you've been reading the Palm Beach Post," said Commissioner Claude A. Tindall, referring to recent coverage by the Post of housing problems in the southwest section of Belle Glade.

"No," said Harvin. "They sometimes neglect these things."

The commission also heard a report by City Manager Rolfe Wagner and Mayor Thomas L. Altman on requests from the state Department of Environmental Regulation for information concerning the city's water treatment project.

The department is requesting assurances that the city will employ an A Operator at the plant once it is functioning, and that required tests will be undertaken.

When the issue was first brought up before the commission Monday, September 27, Altman objected because he and other commissioners felt the department was requiring the assurances before it issued permits for the project.

Friday, October 1, Altman said that he had been told in telephone conversation with Robert A. Elefritz of the engineering firm Briley, Wild and Associates, that the city's personnel at the plant is not tied into the permitting process, and that the city had intended to undertake the necessary tests anyway.

Elefritz will be forwarding a letter to the city describing the tests he thinks are appropriate, Altman said.

"The testing program is not that unusual a circumstance," said Wagner. "It was contemplated all the time."

Housing code

"These are nice things to have, but looking at it from a legal point of view, I don't want to be saddled with a millstone that I can't swim with," said Baker. The city could find itself being sued for not enforcing its code if it retained clauses which are not enforceable, he added.

A section mandating that screen doors with self-closing devices be on all doors opening to the outside brought discussion from the commissioners who felt that it was too restrictive.

Mayor Thomas L. Altman said requiring screen doors on all doors opening into outdoors is "not even necessarily desirable," and added that many houses in town wouldn't be substandard if they didn't have screen doors with self-closing devices.

"I suggest that 88 percent of the dwellings in this city are in violation of this provision, and it really serves no purpose," agreed Baker.

Harvin and City Building Inspector Barry Underwood both said they interpreted that section of the code as only applying to doors used for ventilation.

The commissioners also agreed that rooms in roominghouses can be required to have a light with a wall switch and a convenient wall outlet remote from the light receptacle.

Altman said he wanted the commissioners to agree on that requirement or drop it because it was crucial.

"I just want the whole commission to be supportive of that because we're gonna get a lot of flack over that," he said. "They relate to the safety and the health of the occupant."

He said the city commissioners should be prepared to "stick to our guns" when owners complain.

The commissioners also had problems with provisions in the proposed code requiring minimum floor space for occupants.

Landlords and the city could have difficulty enforcing the provision because individuals could deny living in a room or apartment if it is too crowded to meet code restrictions.

"If we can't enforce it, should we delete it from the code?" asked Altman.

"No sir," said Harvin. "There will be more than a fair number of cases where you can enforce it. Not everyone would lie about it."

Quarterly inspection requirements also drew some discussion.

The cost of inspecting every roominghouse in the city every three months would be prohibitive, but the city decided to retain the provisions requiring the inspections and rely on the Hotel and Restaurant Division of the State Department of Business Regulation to inspect the buildings, as it is required.

The state currently does most inspections in the city and the city relies on its findings.

Baker said that in his view, the state code is "at least as stringent" as the city code concerning the operation of rooming establishments.

The plight of residents displaced by city mandated repairs was also discussed by the commissioners.

Altman asked what "practical and moral obligation" would lie with the city when the repairs needed on a building are so extensive residents must be removed.

Harvin said that he has not happened yet and added that he considers that the owners responsibility.

"I don't think he (the tenant or resident) has any choice, given so much time, than to find another place to live," said Commissioner George Goforth. "I don't think it's our responsibility."

"Well I don't either. Neither do I," said Altman.

"I think you're reaching too far when you reach for the tenant," said Baker. "Your contact should stop with the owner."

Harvin added that the department never made it mandatory to evict tenants, allowing the owners to decide whether they can complete the necessary repairs without removing residents.

To alleviate the problem Altman suggested the city doesn't start work immediately on one type of building or structure, thus avoiding a sudden influx of individuals looking for housing.

Goodlett said the city should work slowly because it can't handle the full load all at once.

"It's gonna take a long, long time to do the job," he said. "But get it moving, but slowly to begin with."

Perspective

Don't put yourself in their place

Handicapped parking places are for handicapped people. Please — don't put yourself in their place.

This is the message from the Disabled American Veterans and their national commander Edward G. Galian who have designated October as Handicapped Parking Awareness Month.

The temptation to park in spaces reserved for the handicapped is strong when your errand is quick, your time short, or it looks like it might rain at any moment.

Don't do it, the DAV urges. You may force someone to walk an extra distance on artificial legs. Also, the extra wide space reserved for the handicapped provides them with the additional room needed to wrestle a wheelchair in and out of the back seat and to set it up beside the car.

Additionally, says the DAV, those whose mobility is impaired can't move as quickly as the able-bodied. They can't jump out of the path of negligent drivers and having to cross a parking lot increases their chances of being hit by a car. It shouldn't be necessary to remind those of us who are not physically handicapped to have some consideration for those who are.

Perhaps some of us have merely been thoughtless, and the DAV message will make us more aware of our blessings in being able to walk as well as the need of the physically handicapped who are not so able bodied.

City acting wisely in revising code

The proposed revisions to the city's housing code are just one step in the continuing process of providing up-graded, standard housing for many local citizens.

The city government is acting with the best interests of the city and its citizens in mind, but, as Commissioner Charles Goodlett accurately summed it up, the process is a "long, long" one, and the citizens should have patience.

In considering revisions to the code, the commissioners looked at areas concerning the health and safety of the residents, and the problems of enforcement.

We feel they've done their best in revising the code, but its just one step in instituting a workable housing program.

If they would enter the project too quickly, the results could be disastrous. Displaced citizens could only make matters worse.

But the city is taking the correct approach in entering the project gradually, biting off only so much as they can handle.

We urge them to continue to do so. The problems didn't pop up overnight, and they can't be eliminated and solved overnight.

A matter of judgement

The burgermasters of the country are going to court in a multi-million dollar battle over whose ground meat on a bun is best.

It's a sad day when the Burger King must be brought to his knees and Ronald MacDonald has to cry, "Justice." What's even sadder is what all this may do to the price of a whoopeeburger and fries to recoup the legal fees if $25 million has to pass through the golden arches.

The issue here seems as cloudy as a malted milkshake. Is the object of it all to prove which hamburger tastes better or just to define grilling and frying? Or is it neither?

And in any case, why go to court? What's wrong with good old prime time methods already established by TV? Hold the pleadings, hold the briefs, and bring on that "panel of experts" who've made all the taste tests for us in years past. Bring on the men in the white coats wearing their stethoscopes, sitting in front of their charts, who can assure us — eyeball to eyeball — that nine out of ten doctors surveyed recommend frying or grilling or broiling or just plain rare. (Cue for Orson Welles: "We serve no hamburger before it's time.) Or turn the problem over to a high school class in a midwestern city and feed half the students one brand, the other half the other brand.

But getting back to the issue: which burger tastes better or how each is cooked has nothing to do with the case, in my opinion (as a hamburger eater not a jurist). Every mother alive knows what the problem is because she's dealt with it in all its forms.

One child says, "I make the best hamburgers in the world." That will bring on some jeers but no fistfights. The fracas starts when the statement gets personal: "I can make better hamburgers than you make any day of the week." Theirs' fightin' words.

A court case won't decide a thing. The runner-up will never admit it. Never adopt the slogan, "We're second best, we fry harder."

No. This is an issue that can only be settled by those experts we have all come to know and trust. Forget Mikey, of course. He'll eat anything. Morris is probably the one for this job.

The new Belle Glade Post Office was scheduled to be dedicated Oct. 21 according to Postmistress Rosa Nash.

The new facility, located at 140 S.E. Ave. D, was part of the Post Office Department's lease construction program, under which private developers built the post offices, paid taxes on the property and the federal treasury saved money.

A number of dignitaries, including Congressman Paul Rogers, had accepted invitations to attend the ceremony.

Cornell-Pierce, Garland and Friedman, a Miami architectural firm, was selected to design a $1.2 million 75-bed hospital for the Southwest Palm Beach Hospital Board.

Belle Glade architect Chester Cone was a full member of the firm in the design work.

The vote on the proposed bond issue from which the board expected to secure the money for matching Hill-Burton funds, was set to be held Nov. 6.

Three area residents died when their car failed to make a turn from a muck road on to a paved road in the western part of South Bay, rolled down an eight-foot embankment and into a canal.

Dead were Ellis Carter and Willie Thomas of South Bay and Annie Mae Faulkner of Belle Glade.

Eugene Norton of South Bay escaped through a window.

Fields were flooded and young crops were damaged but things weren't quite as bad following heavy rains as reported in coastal newspapers, according to one news story in The Herald.

The most damage was recorded in the Pahokee Canal Point area, where as much as six inches was recorded in places.

Less than an inch fell during the same time at the Everglades Experiment Station and the rainfall at most points south of Pahokee was an inch or less.

A taboo subject comes out of the closet

About five years ago a local policeman told me that after he had witnessed his first autopsy, there was no doubt in his mind that there is a God.

He saw the components of the human body as a miraculous structure that could be created only by God.

Most of us need not witness an autopsy to be convinced of the conclusion reached by the policemen.

In fact, most of us would prefer not to have anything to do with autopsies.

Increasingly, however, autopsies are becoming more and more a topic of discussion. I recall that when my youngest sister was still in high school in St. Augustine, she sat in on more than one autopsy as part of the Explorer EMT program.

"Quincy," the popular television program based on the experiences of the Los Angeles medical examiner has moved autopsies into prime time.

Quincy doesn't actually show autopsies. The closest we get is seeing drapped cadavers in the morgue. The program instead focuses on the sleuthing which solves crimes through forensic medicine.

Now, however, all that has been changed. Several weeks ago, the Public Broadcasting Service brought us an autopsy in living color on the program "Nova."

The program centered on the murder of a man and how forensic medicine helped determine how he died.

My wife and I sat fascinated watching the program as the medical examiner methodically and scientifically demonstrated how the human body is dissected.

I wanted to change the channel, but the subject matter was so powerful that I was transfixed. Had there been children in the room, I would definitely have changed stations.

Organs were removed, weighed, and tested on camera. It can now be revealed that liver looks like liver, whether it is beef or human.

After seeing the program, I had mixed feelings about it.

I question whether the general viewing audience is ready to see so graphic a program.

I wonder about the impact on young children and impressionable adults.

At the same time, I believe such a program has its place, perhaps in certain high school or college biology classes. It should be mandatory viewing for police officers and others in law enforcement.

Like heart operations which have been broadcast on network television from time-to-time for years, autopsies are not for the squeamish.

My wife has, at least temporarily, sworn off meat. It's vegetables or nothing for her right now.

As for me, I don't look at ground beef quite the same way as in the past. Not that it stops me from eating it.

But I'll have to say the program made a strong impact on me. There aren't too many programs which appear on television that I can remember enough about two weeks later to write anything about.

I'm not sure that PBS was wrong in airing that particular Nova program. But I would at least hope that they would think twice next time.

I think there are questions of taste and suitability which can never be overlooked.

Raiders drop heartbreaker

BELLE GLADE—Flags, flags, flags, is what most spectators and Raiders fan remember about the Glades Central vs Cardinal Newman game on Friday night, Oct. 1.

On the other hand, Crusaders fans see post season playoffs for their team.

In a game filled with emotions, the Raiders saw their hope for possible post season play fade away.

The Raiders lost to the Crusaders 30-22 in a crucial District 14-AAA football game at Glades Central.

The Raiders ranked third in the Florida Sports-writers poll going in the game were hurt in a series of turnovers and penalties.

The Crusaders came into the game with a psychological lift when Headcoach Sam Budnyk surprised his team with new blue uniform pants just prior to the game.

Cardinal Newman jumped ahead 16-0 on their first three possessions.

After being stopped at their won 45 yard line on the opening drive, a Newman punt was tipped by a Raider receiver deep in the Raiders' own territory. The ball was recovered at the 20 and from there John Carney kicked a 30 yard field goal for the first score of the game.

The Newman defense then stopped the Raiders on their next drive and needed just three plays to score on an 80-yard touchdown run by tailback Alonzo Jefferson.

It was a third and 11 play from the Newman 20 and Budnyk called a draw play up the middle. Jefferson got through the line, rushed down the left sideline, then eluded four Glades Central defenders while cutting across the field at Glades Central 30.

The Raiders coaching staff, team members and fan contends Jefferson stepped out of bound.

Coach Dan Brown said "there were a lot of questionable calls. On Jefferson's 80's yard touchdown run he stepped out of bounds. I don't think the officials had the guts to make calls."

On the next series, the Raiders lost the ball on a fumble by split end Alonzo Allen at the Raiders 28. Newman recovered the ball. The Crusaders needed eight plays before Jefferson would score again in the first play of the second quarter.

The Raiders closed in the gap in the second quarter. They scored twice and had a third touchdown nullified by a clipping charge.

John Ford caught a 26-yard scoring pass from Eric Smith and Randy Rutledge added the two-point conversion.

Randy Rutledge added another touchdown for the Raiders before the half ran out.

Rutledge finished the game 144 carries for the Raiders. He added a touchdown in the final period on a 2 yard run. His second touchdown helped bring the Raiders to within eight points of the Crusaders.

The Raiders quarterback Smith had an impressive performance, throwing for 174 yards, and for a touchdown. He also had one touchdown called back.

The Raiders will play Santalucas Friday night at 8 p.m. at the John I. Leonard football field in Lake Worth.

The field is located off of 10th Ave. and Military Trail.

Gators lose to Card. Mooney

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE -- The Gators are right on schedule after losing to Cardinal Mooney Friday, October 1, according to Coach Byron Walker, Jr. The Gators record is now 1-2, but Walker said it could just as easily have been 0-4 after the first four games.

The reason? The first four games of the Gators' schedule are against 2A schools. This week, the Gators host Lake Placid, also a 2A school, before traveling to their first district game next week against King's Academy.

"We knew that to go 0-4 in this stretch was very possible," said Walker. "They're all bigger schools. I don't think our confidence has been damaged. We messed around and won one game."

The Gator plan is to use the first four games to build the team's character and hone its skills, so that when district games start rolling around, the Gators will be the best team in contention for the title.

"Things are going the way we want them to go," said Walker. "We're getting there, on schedule. We'll have had our backs to the wall a number of times by the time the districts roll around, so pressure won't be anything new to us. Of course, we're disappointed that we lost Friday," said Walker.

The Glades Day Gators scored their only touchdown of the game in the first quarter Friday to take the lead over Cardinal Mooney, but couldn't hold on as they lost their second game in three contests.

Cardinal Mooney scored seven in the second quarter and six in the fourth to put the game away 13-6.

The Gators' touchdown came on a 49-yard pass to Marion Tyson from quarterback Raul Garcia. "We just hit them with a quick kind of pop pattern," said Walker.

Tyson caught the only four passes: Quarterback Raul Garcia would complete in 10 attempts, for a gain of 75 yards.

Brian Lohmann carried the ball 13 times for a team leading 49 yards. Davey Haynes was second with 31 yards in six carries.

Glades Day picked up seven first downs to tie Cougars' ten. The Cougars also moved the ball well on the ground, picking up 192 yards while holding Glades Day to 101.

Glades Day shut down the Cougar passing game, holding it to no yards while picking up 75. This Friday, the Gators host Lake Placid in the homecoming contest. The game time is 8 p.m. "We're confident we can win," said Walker.

CDS off to best start

BELLE GLADE -- James Jacks said before the start of the high school football season that he thinks the Crusaders could go 7-2 in the first season under his guidance.

This could seem like high hopes when you consider that the Crusaders have never finished above 500 in their existence. Last year they finished with a dismal 3-6 record.

Jacks and his Christian Day Crusaders are converting many heretics into believers, though.

They defeated Miami Christian Saturday, October 2, to up their record to 3-1.

That's the fastest start in the history of the school's football program.

A strong defense has enabled the Crusaders to win by holding their opponents while the Crusader offense scores just enough to get by.

The Crusaders have been outscored 55 to 63 in four games, but have still come out victorious in all but one, that being a 36-7 romp by the Moore Haven Terriers.

Last week, the Crusaders met Miami Christian and once again, defense was the name of the game.

"We didn't do too much on offense," said Statistician Joe Guehline.

Miami scored first in the second quarter when Jeff Herteack broke up the middle for an 85 yard run to the goal line.

From that point on, the Crusaders' defense crushed the Miami attack. In the fourth quarter, the Miami team moved the ball for a gain only once. At the end of the game, Miami had rushed for a total of 73 yards in 36 carries.

Christian Day also carried the ball 35 times for a gain of 71 yards. Miami had a higher ratio of complete passes to attempts, but for less yards, completing three for nine attempts for 44 yards, while the Crusaders were three for 12 with 66 yards gained.

The Crusaders also capitalized on turnovers, collecting two interceptions, and recovering all four of the Miami fumbles, while losing only one of their own four.

The Crusaders have also improved their penalty game, losing only 15 yards in three penalties. Miami lost 32 yards in four penalties.

The Crusaders hit the scoreboards with 3:50 to go in the second quarter. Quarterback Alex Morales hit Robert Echols with a 46-yard touchdown pass to culminate a three play drive starting at the Miami 39 yard line.

The Crusaders attempt at the two point conversion failed and they were down 8-7.

In the third, the Crusader defense pushed the Miami line back to the four yard line where a snapped ball sailed over the punter's head into the endzone for a two-point safety that put the Crusaders ahead to stay.

The Crusaders padded their lead in the fourth quarter with a defensive TD. Jody Canalis tackled the punter at the eight yard line with 2:15 on the clock. The punter fumbled and Cary McKee recovered the ball in the endzone.

The Crusader defense sacked the Miami quarterback six times. Philip Echols led the defense with seven solo tackles, 10 assists and one interception.

Canalis was second with six solos and three assists, including two sacks and a poked punt.

This week, the Crusaders take on Okaloosa JV at home. The game starts at 3:30 p.m. at the Crusader field off of Six Mile Bend.

Blue Devils' win ups record to 3-0

PAHOKEE—When the Pahokee High School "Blue Devils" travel to Ft. Pierce Friday, the Blue Devils better watch out.

Ft. Pierce Westwood could be out to get the Blue Devils in revenge to what the Devils did to Ft. Pierce Central Friday night, Oct. 1.

The Devils 3-0 for the season stopped the Cobras in their bid to hand the Blue Devils their first defeat of the season.

The Devils behind a tough defensive line stopped the Cobras attack with four minutes remaining in the game.

Pahokee drew first blood. Both team went into the half with no score. In the third quarter, tight end Walter Johnson found pay dirt from 23 yards out for the score.

Eddie Daniels kicked the extra point, which made the difference in the game.

Senior Jeff Mullins was the game's leading rusher with 60 yards on 14 carries. Johnson rushed another time for nine yards and caught his team's only pass for 13 yards.

The Cobras had 72 yards passing, Pahokee was penalized 70 yards while Ft. Pierce picked up 60 yards in penalties.

The Devils held on to their number three spot in the Florida Sports-writers Class 2-A poll.

If the Devils can get past Westwood Friday, the Devils will face arch-rivalry and district opponents, the Clewiston Tiger with a 4-0 record.

The Tigers are ranked number one in the Class 2-A poll. The game between Clewiston and Pahokee on Oct. 15 could be billed as the title bout for whose king in "Sugar Country".

Penny tax

WEST PALM BEACH—The voters in Palm Beach County will be asked if they want to add one penny sales tax in the county for a period of one year.

The decision came after a public hearing before the Board of County Commissioners during their regular session Tuesday, September 28, at the county courthouse.

The purpose of the extra penny tax is to construct sports, recreation or cultural arts centers for the use of all residents.

More than a dozen speakers rose to either oppose or support the placement of the issue on the November general election ballot, during the public hearing.

"You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt loses its saltiness, how can it be made salty again? It is no longer good for anything, except to be thrown out and trampled by men." Matt. 5:13 Jesus spoke these words near the beginning of the Sermon on the Mount. He started with a description of what a Disciple (Christian) is to be like. We know that description as the Beatitudes. Then with comment He says three more things we are to be like, "You are the salt of the earth... You are the light of the world... A city set on a hill." Matt. 5:13, 14

What Jesus was saying, as His disciples our lives are to make a difference wherever we are living. He did not say that to do this we needed to be a majority—because most of the time the true Disciples of Jesus Christ are a minority.

That is one reason he chose "salt." A little salt adds a lot of flavor to food. That is the first thing that Christians are to do wherever they are living. They are to make a difference. They are to make the Presence of God known in their homes, at work, and in their community. The first way we are to do this is in what he called a silent witness. That means our first witness is not to be verbal. Now this does not exclude a verbal witness, that too is necessary—very necessary.

There are two particular ways we make this witness, which are behavior and attitude (especially love). People whose first commitment in life is to god will have a different kind of life than those who are living for something else. God gives to people values that are different than ordinary human values. In the first place, people are more important than things. Next people are committed to Jesus Christ have a set of moral values. These values include being honest no matter the cost, a respect for the property of others and a set of high sexual morality. Even a society where sexual morality and a playboy philosophy exist. Then when we truly become committed to Jesus Christ we are more interested in giving than getting. This is why for many Christians tithing (giving one tenth of our income) is the beginning of their giving, rather than a dream. They just do it as a matter of fact part of their commitment.

Jesus was saying Christian should be like a light in a world of darkness. Sin is darkness. The values held by most of the world are contrary to those of the Bible. In the midst of these values Jesus tells us we are to be the light that shines in the darkness.

As Jesus was preaching this message, the people could see a distant city safely setting on top of a mountain. That city is more than 3000 feet above sea level, and is higher than any other city ten or twelve in any direction. At night it is like a light set on top of a stand. He said, that is the way His disciples are to be. It starts with Jesus Christ being the first commitment of our lives. It means we invite Him to come in and fill us up with Himself. It means we are committed to becoming like Him.

Lake Shore initiates new program

Lake Shore Middle School in Belle Glade has initiated an innovative review program for the 1982-83 school year aimed at dramatically increasing student achievement levels on standardized state tests. The review, organized by school administrators during the summer, involves extensive review of the basic skills featured on the state's battery of tests.

The 'State Student Assessment Test, given last Wednesday and Thursday, will be used as a measurement of the review's success. "We expect a marked increase in our students' scores on these tests," said Assistant Principal Calvin Darville. "We're getting a super effort out of our teachers and kids, everyone is enthusiastic about the basic skills review."

The review begins each morning with an extended homeroom period during which students practice multiple choice test-taking skills. In subsequent classes, the students work on skills designated for that particular day.

"We've had nothing but praise for the program from everyone who has studied it," said Principal Edward Foley at a faculty meeting. "The effort put forth by department heads Wilma Guy and John Arthur in this program has been extraordinary." A letter to each student's parents was sent home to explain the review and ask for cooperation. The letter included a calendar of the review schedule and tips for studying at home. In other news from Lake Shore, the girls' softball team is undefeated at 6-0. The Lady Roadrunners have combined the offensive punch of Lydia Carter, Rechina Johnson and Pamela Sandlin to score 76 runs so far this season. Other fall activities Lake Shore are getting under way this week.

a meeting with Federal Labor Bureau officials for the stated goal of finding a solution to the problem.

The Canal Point Division of the American Junior Scrapers' Army enlisted 135 young men and women for service and they were well under way with "intensive training."

Each of the enlistees was given a quota of scrap iron, steel and other strategic metals to gather.

The enlistee was given the rank of private when he or she reached the quota then, by reaching graduated plateaus of further quotas, advanced to PFC, corporal, sergeant, second lieutenant and first lieutenant.

Captains of the army were the teachers and majors were the principals at various schools where the collection campaigns were being carried on.

School Supt. John I. Leonard was the senior officer in the Palm Beach County regiment, holding the rank of colonel.

Chief Petty Officer Raymond Padgett was on leave at home in Pahokee for 10 days following a two-month stay in the Mare Island, Cal. Naval Depot Hospital.

Padgett was treated at the hospital for a serious loss of weight and physical exhaustion brought on by several days of sheding Japanese patrols on the islands of Java and Bali in the Indian Ocean.

He had survived three naval battles and 20 air attacks aboard a battleship before he was blown into the water in an aerial attack.

He spent 12 hours in the water swimming to Java, then several days before he stole a boat and rowed to Bali, where he made contact with a submarine that took him to Australia.

60 YEARS AGO
THE EVERGLADES NEWS
OCTOBER 14, 1922

More snap beans were planted around Cardwell station between Pahokee and Belle Glade than in the entire state of South Carolina, according to a report that said Lake Okechobee was THE bean-growing area in Florida.

While 900 acres of beans were planted in South Carolina, more than 5,000 acres were under cultivation in the Lake region and 13,000 acres in Florida.

Glades farmers were expected to produce two thirds of the beans in the state, however, because the crops here were doing well and crops in other parts of the state were doing poorly.

The United States Sugar Corp. took two steps prompted by the depression when field foremen were pressed into the job of driving tractors and paydays were reduced from two to one a month.

The men who had been driving the tractors were being laid off.

Under the austerity program, the company's estimated million dollars worth of sugar cane in the field were expected to be harvested but ditch cleaning and other work would be delayed.

The expected effect of one payday a month was that the company would be able to draw interest on its payrolls.

Another effect was that employees were expected to spend more money in the company commissaries.

Merchandise being sold to Glades residents was also being effected by the depression.

Cater's Department Store in West Palm Beach, for instance, was advertising a three-piece living room suite for $59.50, an eight piece walnut dining room suite for $69.50 and a four piece hollywood vanity bedroom suite for $59.50.

In the meantime, items listed in classified ads, which were priced at a penny a word with a 25 cent minimum, included a Fordson tractor with bush and bog discs for sale for $225.

Grady Boynton announced his new prices were $3.50 for plowing, $1.50 for bog discing, $1 for tandem discing and fertilizing and planting for $2.

3,000 years of history unearthed

by Joe Ed McGahey

For many years now, people have been "digging up the past." In this century, digging "has developed into a science, with a highly developed method; the science of archeology. The scientific method of archeology has led to a clearer understanding of history as more and more tools, vessels, and weapons, walls, workshops and waterways have been discovered and dated".

This summer, for six weeks, my wife Doty and I became archeologists. From July 19th to August 27th we worked on top of-beside and inside of the 4000 year old wall that was the protection for the 5000 year old city of Jerusalem. Jerusalem- the Holy City- Holy to Christians, Jews and Moslems. Jerusalem, a city that existed before God ever spoke to Abraham. In fact, when Abraham encountered "Melchizedek, king of Salem" the city was already 1000 years old. When King David of Israel conquered Jerusalem (in about 1000 B.C.) the city was 2000 years old and its protecting walls were 1000 years old.

What do first-time archeologists do? First, you prepare by reading dozens of books- books about archeology, about Jerusalem, about the history of the City of David and its people, who they were and what they did. Then you work- WORK, as in hard physical labor. You dig with picks, large hoes, hand picks and trowels. You brush, with large, hard-bristled brushes, and sometimes paint brushes. You bend, stoop, squat and sweat. You carry rocks, buckets full of powder fine sand and buckets of "sherds" (broken pottery pieces). You push wheelbarrows, climb ladders, climb steep banks and rocks and walls. You walk miles, up-hills (so steep that a fall lands you flat on your face), and down, with your eyes, ears nose and shoes full of dust or gravel. And you have the most exciting time you have ever had in your life! During our six weeks at the City of David Excavations, we helped dig down through the Roman Period of Jerusalem, that is, the ruins of the old city from the time of Jesus Christ. We dug through the destruction of Jerusalem by the Romans in 70 A.D., down through the Hellenistic Period, the Iron Age, the late and middle Bronze Ages to the Early Bronze Age, 3000 years before Christ.

Archeological digging becomes really exciting when you suddenly realize that you have dug to the floor of a home that was there 3000 years ago. Or when you realize that you are uncovering a surface with broken pottery and other objects (such as flint tools) that were used there many, many generations ago. Sometimes you realize that this is a home that someone built, lived and raised their family in, and that was destroyed in one of more than 35 wars Jerusalem was involved in during its long history. What happened to those people? The broken pottery on the floor used to be their pots and pans, their storage vessels and sometimes, their objects of cult worship, the flint knives and scrapers were used to prepare food and clothing or for protection.

It is awesome to know that you are finding these objects- the ancient remains of lives lived thousands of years ago. During the last week of our digging we made our most exciting "find".

Fifty three clay seals were found in this area.

This wall once protected the City of Jerusalem. The wall is 4,000 years old.

Several archeologists look over the pieces of broken pottery found during the dig.

Inside the area Rev. and Mrs. Joe McGahey and other archeologists worked at during the excavation.

By Teresa Byrne-Dodge

The late Jack Benny was always 39, like to cultivate the image of stunginess and often posed with an affected hand on his cheek. He also liked to use the violin as a comedic prop, but in fact was quite an accomplished player. Who started as Benny's valet, Rochester Van Jones? What was Benny's theme song? What Benny cartoon became known for his deliveries of a single word "Yeeessssss"?

Anesthetist Green honored for service

BELE GLADE-Governor Bob Graham proclaimed Oct. 4 through 11 as Anesthetist Week in the State of Florida.

In observance of Nurse Anesthetist Week, Dr. Thomas Rostas, Vascular and General Surgeon at Glades General Hospital, presented Ruth Green, CRNA, the nurse anesthetist for the hospital, a corsage for her dedicated services.

Mrs. Green received her bachelor or science degree in Nursing Education from St. John's University in Jamaica, N.Y. She later completed 24 months of postgraduate education at the University of Tennessee School of Anesthesia. Before joining the staff at Glades General, she was the nurse anesthetist at Erlanger Medical Center in Chattanooga, Tenn. She has been on the staff at Glades General since January.

Mrs. Green is a member of the American Association of Nurse Anesthetists, the national professional organization of some 19,000 C.R.N.A.'s. The organization was recognized in 1952 by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare as the official accrediting agency of Schools of Nurse Anesthesia. It accredits 75 schools in the U.S. and Puerto Rico.

Today, there are over 700 certified registered nurse anesthetists in Florida working behind the scenes to help provide safe, quality health care at a reasonable cost.

All nurse anesthetists in the State of Florida are required to be recertified every two years. This recertification is based upon the fulfillment of 40 hours of continuing education through an accredited education program.

National Family Sexuality Week observed here

BELE GLADE-Seventeen public service agencies in Palm Beach County for the first time are combining efforts in support of National Family Sexuality Education Week.

National Family Sexuality Education Week was instituted in 1975 as a way to emphasize parents' role as the primary sexuality educators of their children.

To promote this week, Oct. 5 through 11, these agencies have formed the Palm Beach County Alliance for Family Life Education. Their primary goal is to generate an awareness of problems such as adolescent pregnancy, sexually transmitted diseases, and the effects of ignorance.

According to a spokesperson for the group, these agencies feel that by working together, parents and the community can provide the information and support necessary to prepare today's youths for the world of responsibilities of living in our complex and ever-changing world.

Among the seventeen agencies involved in the alliance are the American Red Cross, Association for Retarded Citizens, Children's Home Society, CROS Urban Ministries, Jewish Community Center, Junior League, Mental Health Association, Palm Beach County Community Schools, Parent Child Study Center, Parents in Need, PB-JC Continuing Education, Planned Parenthood andYWCA.

In honor of National Family Sexuality Education Week, the alliance is sponsoring several events in Belle Glade.

According to Anita Adams, Counselor/educator for Planned Parenthood Glades Center, two free workshops on sexually transmitted diseases (STD's) will be offered by Planned Parenthood of the Glades. The first, Oct. 11, will be held at the Lakewood Civic Center, from 7 to 9 p.m. The second workshop will be at the Belle Glade Municipal Civic Center on Oct. 18 from 7 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Adams said the incidence, symptoms, and treatment of sexually diseases will be discussed. She also said a film will be shown on the subject.

During the month of October, Mrs. Adams said, Planned Parenthood Glades Center will have a display at the Belle Glade Municipal Library.
